

LAIR CRITICS FALTER?

Representative Tom James of Dallas this week in effect declined to match Randall County District Attorney Avert Lair's assertion that he will stake his office on the outcome of next week's grand jury investigation.

A Randall County grand jury will convene next Wednesday at the request of Lair to study the district attorney's conduct of his office, particularly in the Roy Joe Stevens case.

Lair has offered to resign his post as district attorney if the grand jury finds there has been any misconduct of his office "either in the Roy Joe Stevens matter or anything else."

Lair was criticized sharply by a House General Investigations Committee report for what it termed failure to bring criminal action against Roy Joe Stevens. The report is largely credited to James. James was vice-chairman of a crime probe committee in Amarillo early last year.

Stevens resigned as Randall County judge and was subsequently disbarred from practice of law following the Amarillo investigations.

James said he will be here next Wednesday for the grand jury hearing. He is one of several, including grand jury foremen, newspaper executives and legislators who have been subpoenaed for the hearing.

From all information The News has been able to assemble, James shoulders most of the responsibility for the report which took Lair to task.

Both Charles Ballman and H.J. "Doc" Blanchard have in effect "disowned" the portion of the report dealing with the Randall County District Attorney.

Ballman, chairman of the committee at the time the report was filed, said he signed the report on the strength of James' say so.

Blanchard, chairman of the committee at the time of the crime probe in Amarillo, said he even suggested to the committee that Randall County law enforcement officers be given a clean bill of health. Blanchard is no longer a member of the committee and did not sign the report.

In a telephone conversation with The News Tuesday, James said he still believes he has information which will lead to indictment of Stevens.

James hesitated when asked if he would lay his post in the legislature on the line on the outcome of the grand jury probe.

"Who will be the judge?" he asked.

"The grand jury," his interviewer replied. "Lair has said he would resign if the grand jury decided he has not conducted his office properly. Would you resign if it decides he has?"

The legislator gave no direct answer.

He said he had been in Amarillo recently to attend a funeral and had talked to several people. He noted that a lot is being said there "not related to the controversy but dealing in personalities."

"A lot of prominent people are being pulled into it that shouldn't be, like Sheriff Johnston," James declared.

"Slim Johnston hasn't been subpoenaed but asked to be called before the grand jury," the interviewer informed James.

"I see there are personalities involved that I didn't know about the first time I talked to you," James asserted. "There are personalities involved between you and Tommy Thompson. I read your Boss Thompson editorial."

"I'm not being groomed by influential people in Amarillo for attorney general. I'll send you a statement."

"Are you a candidate for attorney general?" James was asked.

"Sure," he replied. Then, "Maybe."

James declined further comment by telephone but said a written statement would be forthcoming by mail. There was little likelihood that the statement would arrive in Canyon in time for this week's Canyon News.

In an interview with The News just after the committee report was filed, James told The News that he "had information" to the effect that Lair had not taken the Stevens case before a grand jury since the crime probe in Amarillo last year. "If he has taken it before a grand jury, then that is different," the state representative declared.

Lair told The News that he has taken the Stevens case before Randall County grand juries twice since the crime probe. He said he began investigating Stevens long before the crime probe committee assembled in Amarillo.

Statements from Sheriff L.S. Johnston tend to back Lair's assertions up.

In the meantime, statements from people close to the case bolster Lair's position. These include members of the State Bar Grievance Committee, who say Lair cooperated in disbarment procedure against Stevens, and members of recent Randall County grand juries.

Crowded Class Rooms Cause 4th Grade Switch to Jr. Hi

Enrollment Increasing At 8 Percent

Canyon school board moved to meet an emergency class room space situation and then talked building program at a called session Tuesday night.

Two sections of the fourth grade will be moved from elementary school to the junior high school. Elementary Principal Oscar Hinger was on hand to tell of crowded conditions at his school.

He said a teachers lounge is being used as a first grade class room there.

Superintendent Joe Gibson noted that enrollment is increasing at a rate of about 8 percent. As school opened this year the enrollment was 1,631 as compared to an enrollment of 1,529 Sept. 14, 1960, an increase of 102 students.

The superintendent said the gain should climb to 150 students by mid-September. Hinger said he has 180 first graders this year.

Gibson stressed the urgency of the class room situation at the elementary school. The board discussed the possibility of installing a $14,000.00 mobile unit. This would house two classes on a temporary basis.

Gibson said a mobile unit probably could be installed without resorting to a bond issue. He indicated that any kind of building of a permanent type probably would require a bond issue.

After considerable discussion, it was the consensus that a temporary building would not solve the school's problem.

It was then decided to move two units of the fourth grade into the junior high school building where three rooms are available.

Discussion among board members left the impression that this is only a temporary measure.

Hinger pointed to some disadvantages of having the two fourth grade units at the junior high school. One of the foremost is the library problem.

He said that if the two classes are kept there permanently it would entail buying a number of books now shared with other fourth graders at the elementary building.

Exchange of ideas among teachers also would be hampered, he said. Fourth graders at junior high school would not have access to companionship afforded at the elementary school.

"They will be isolated among older children," he declared. The board approved a tentative committee to study school plant needs. Working with the committee will be school board members Jack Haley and Bob Ware.

The committee is made up

Warren's Open House Set Friday

Warren's of Canyon will observe an open house Friday from 4 until 6 p.m. marking a recent addition and remodeling of the store, according to W.A. Warren.

He said that this is his fortieth year as a Canyon merchant. Recently added to the store were two buildings immediately south of the original store. Remodeling has included carpeting, painting lighting and a new store front.

During the open house Friday Warren said there will be no sales.

"We just want people to come in and look over our enlarged stock," he said. "All the clerks will be available to show merchandise and discuss new fashions."

Several hundred dollars worth of door prizes will be given away. Persons attending the open house will sign a register and winners of the prizes will be announced next week.

Grand prizes include a Curlee suit for men, a George Washington bedspread and a Jo Hardin dress. Many other prizes will be given away.

Monday Is Holiday

Monday, September 4, Labor Day, will be observed as an official holiday in Canyon and the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce is urging all businesses to observe it.

49 $100 Seats Sell in Drama Campaign

Only 552 $100 seats for the proposed shrine drama at Palo Duro Canyon State Park remain, according to Mrs. Ples Harper, president of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc.

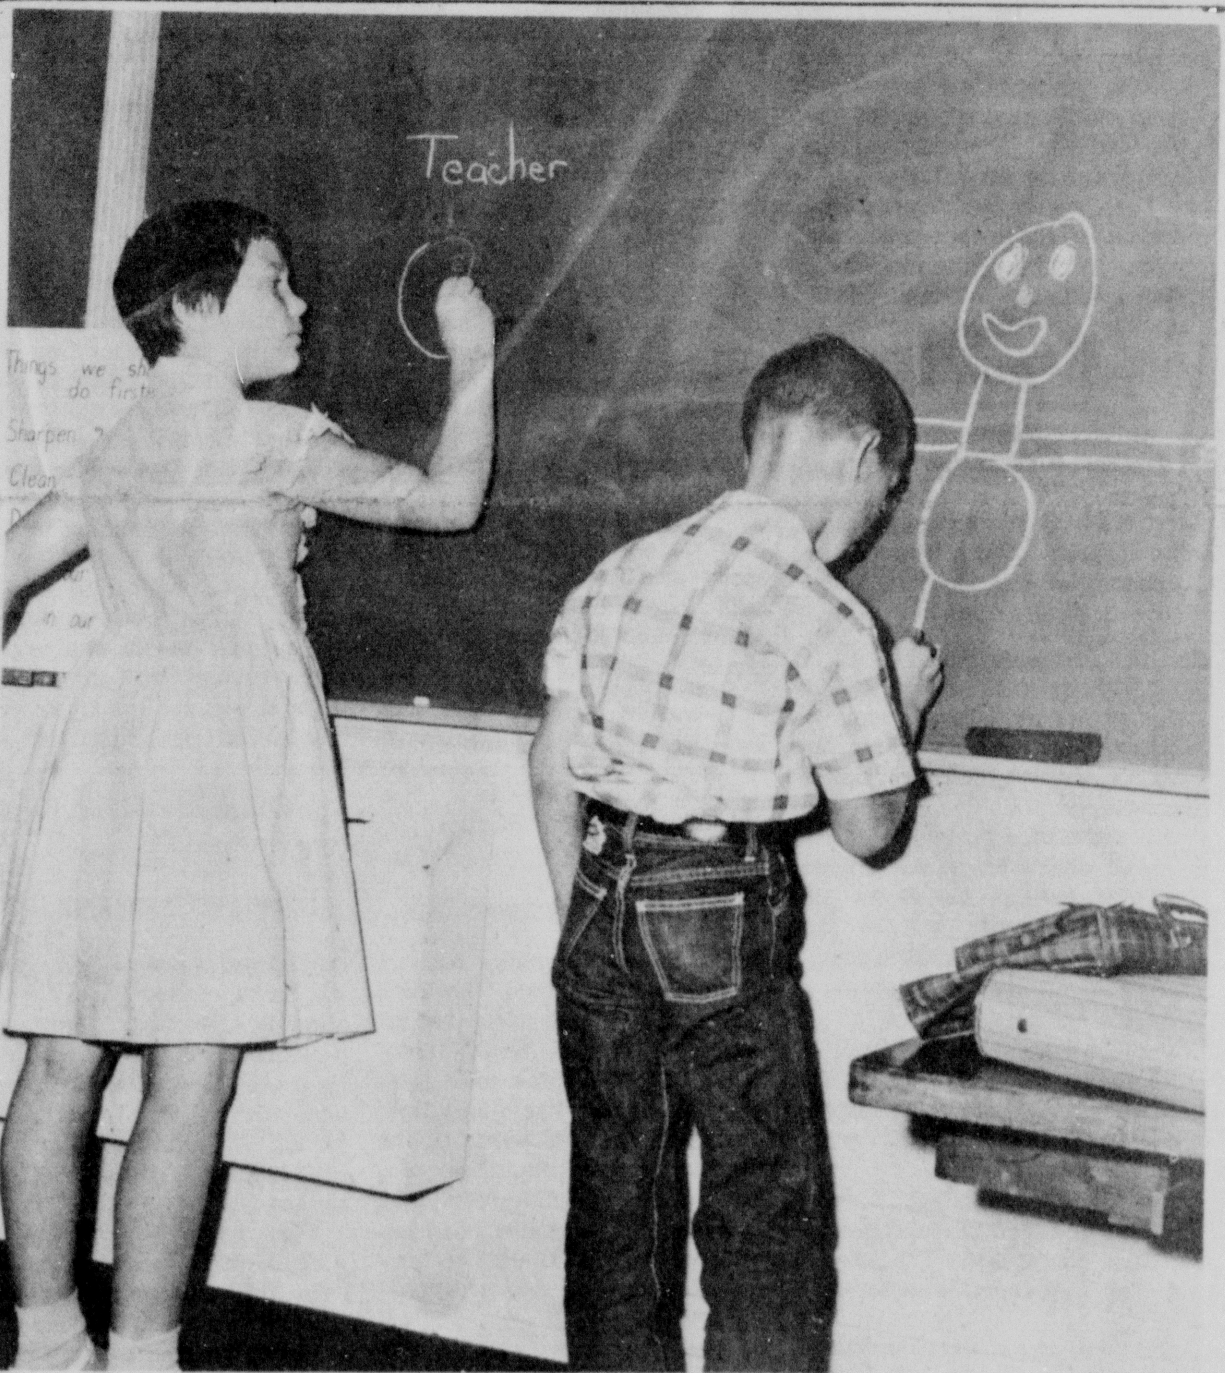

She said that 48 of the first-night seats have already been sold.

So far, the only concentrated fund raising effort made by the foundation has been here in Canyon. This drive has netted $9,741.75 and 372 members.

Mrs. Harper said that many people have been missed during the solicitation due to vacations. "We are not after a money goal," Mrs. Harper explained. "Our only goal is to reach everyone."

While no efforts have been made so far to collect money from other communities approximately 50 persons have

Farmers Busy With Wheat Planting; Prospects Good

Many Randall County farmers are busy sowing wheat, according to John Brazzil, county agent.

Although planting is a little earlier than usual, Brazzil said conditions are ideal.

"Recent rains have made this a perfect time to plant," he said, "and we stand a chance of having an excellent wheat pasturage year."

"We are not going to have any trouble getting the wheat up," he added. "If it rains within a month the wheat pasture could be even better than last year."

Brazzil pointed out that last year was considered a good one for wheat pasture and this year looks even better.

Also, many acres of summer fallow land are being planted to wheat and Brazzil said this indicates good crops.

Other crops throughout the county are in good condition, Brazzil said.

Due to late planting some of the maize will be crowded by frost.

"With the rains during wheat harvest many farmers got a late start with maize and the frost could stop growth before maturity," he said.

He said the majority of the maize will be cut by mid-October.

County Antes Up $8,000 For Livestock Building

Randall County Commissioners Court Monday voted to ante up $8,000.00 for completion of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association building.

The vote came after a plea by association board president Otis Parker.

The association already has spent $12,400.00 toward building the $20,400.00 structure. Parker told the commissioners that work would have to be shut down if more funds were not forthcoming.

The court agreed to furnish the money for completion of the building under an arrangement whereby the county would take title to the building and then lease it to the Junior Livestock Association.

Parker pointed out that the

Texas' Only Ski Lift Opens At Palo Duro State Park

Texas' only ski lift opens this weekend at Palo Duro Canyon State Park, according to Pete Cowart, concessionaire at the park.

Though there are several lifts in nearby New Mexico, Cowart said this is the only one in Texas.

"There is a cable car on Mount Franklin at El Paso but it is not classified as a ski lift," Cowart pointed out.

Cowart first thought about a lift for the park three years ago. "Since that time I have planned and looked for someone who could construct it," he said.

His first letter inquiring about construction went to a Swiss firm which built the ski lift for Disneyland.

"They answered right away—stating they were interested in larger works," Cowart said. "They said that they would only be interested in one which cost approximately $5 million."

Cowart then began looking for someone in this area who might build the lift.

"I contacted the Poarch Brothers in Hereford and they agreed to construct the lift for approximately $30,000," he said.

"I took pictures of several lifts near here and that's what we used for plans."

The canyon lift is driven by a seven and one-half horsepower electric motor with a car engine standing by as auxiliary power. These motors in turn drive a gear reduction box weighing 14,000 pounds.

Thirty chairs will be in operation. Cowart said the chairs will seat two adults and one child each. Tentative prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Carrying the chairs will be a one and one-fourth inch steel cable with a breaking point of near 1 million pounds.

"We've used every safety feature possible," Cowart said. All installations for the lift are set in concrete. One of the "t" poles, which guide the cable to the top, was the cause of minor difficulty, though, he said. Workers had to carry concrete up to it in buckets due to the inaccessible location.

The ride itself? It will be 1,400 feet horizontally and 650 feet vertically.

Starting point is near water crossing one, just across the park road from the new horse stables. From there the cable goes eastward and upward to a plateau overlooking the train and proposed lake site. Cowart said the view from the top includes most of the main canyon.

According to present plans, persons will be taken up, let off and will return when they want to. Cowart will install a communications system between the two points and riders will use this to let the operator know when they wish to return.

This lift marks another first for Palo Duro Canyon State Park and offers another attraction for tourists to this area.

Paper Next Week May Be Late

The Canyon News may delay its press time several hours next week in order to print a full-scale report by the Randall County grand jury.

The grand jury will meet next Wednesday and is expected to submit its report some time Wednesday night.

If at all practical, The News will hold for that report.

Well, Maybe

"I want to see Judge Good," the woman declared at Randall County Courthouse Monday.

"There is no Judge Good here," Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson told her.

"It's something like that."

"Maybe you mean Judge Angel."

"That's it," the woman said.

CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

Two new subscribers from South Amarillo stopped to chat the other day.

"Would you like to be annexed to Potter County and leave Randall County?" we asked them.

"Goodness no," declared one of the women promptly. She went on to say that she was happy that she lives in the Canyon school district.

"Canyon has one of the best schools in the country," she declared.

She said she does hope that a grade school will be erected in her portion of the school district one day soon. It is reasonable to assume that this might happen. The little shavers could go to school close to home and remain in the Canyon School District while their big brothers and sisters continue to come to Canyon to high school.

Commissioners court is beset by a problem of some magnitude. Throughout the history of Randall County it has blossomed under a one-party system. Hence there has never been any trouble over polling places.

Next year there will be two primaries---both Republican and Democratic. The law stipulates that these primaries cannot be held jointly. Yet, they must be held on the same date.

The commissioners will have a real problem on their hands if both parties ask for the same polling places. Nor is this the only problem.

There's just enough ballot boxes to go around now. Who, if anyone, gets the use of the boxes in the primary. There has been a suggestion that the county loan each party half its ballot boxes with the party to furnish the remainder.

Then there's the question of voting machines. If the county provides voting machines for the general election, who, if anyone, gets the use of the machines in the primary? Everyone agrees that the cost of furnishing both parties voting machines would be prohibitive. Anyway, it's probably a party responsibility.

In a two party system, the Democrats will, no doubt, find themselves shorn of many privileges they enjoyed in the good old one-party days.

Clarence Beckman says he remembers the day when there was a nickel bounty on jack-rabbit ears. He hunted down a few.

You couldn't hunt them at a profit now. In the old days, though, a box of .22 caliber shells cost only 11 cents. Those jackrabbits could be mighty tasty, too.

The Canyon-South Amarillo area is one of the most promising sections in this part of the state. We hope that responsible people both in Canyon and Amarillo will continue to work to develop it.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce is about to overhaul its budget in an effort to meet the responsibilities thrust upon it by the growth of this great area.

We've enjoyed sitting in commissioners court the past few weeks. We are very impressed by the young commissioner from South Amarillo, B.R. Jones. Jones has had his lumps already in his first plunge into politics.

He's made some mistakes during his first few months in office, I'm sure. But who hasn't. He impresses us as a conscientious young man who will stand on a principle.

And what's more, we believe that if he can be shown his vote consistently will be for the good of Randall County.

Hilltop Views

BY DR. J. A. HILL

A few weeks ago this column expressed the hope that the then pending Federal Aid to Education bill would be defeated, and gave some of the reasons for opposing it.

When shortly thereafter the bill was defeated it was generally supposed that we would hear nothing more of it during this session of Congress. But not so. "The rose has bloomed again with slightly different color."

The new bill eliminates some of the objectionable features of its predecessor, but is still vulnerable, if newspaper reports are correct. If this bill shall become law it will set a precedent in federal aid to education that will open the way for creeping amendments that will accomplish all the purposes of the original principle of national aid to education. Once committed there can be no reasonable doubt that bureaucratic Washington will, sooner or later, take over. Nationalized public education will be the end result. With the present strong tendency toward government by pressure groups it is disconcerting to think what would happen---indeed, what almost certainly would happen. Again this column takes its stand solidly against the principle of nation-wide aid to education.

It is not to be understood, however, that this writer is opposed to any and all kinds of federal educational projects. For example, I support heartily all of our national military educational institutions---West Point, Annapolis, Colorado Springs. These of course, directly concern our national safety, and this writer would look with favor upon a comparable institution in scientific study and research. To be sure, much work of this kind is being done now at various military installations, but a broader based program would doubtless discover, attract and develop a greater number of outstanding scientists. Like present military institutions, admission would be selective.

An alternate plan would be the selection of a dozen or so existing universities of the first class, well distributed over the nation, and subsidize heavily their science divisions. This plan would produce more scientists because of its appeal in a dozen areas of the nation and would be more democratic.

A combination of these two plans would be worth consideration and should provide all the scientists needed, for both military and industrial employment.

As to federal aid to public schools the present plan of subsidy to communities where there are sizable military units seems entirely justifiable so long as the federal government keeps its hands off them.

Furthermore, in view of the long-established subsidies to vocational education it might be well to continue some as long as the national government makes no further encroachment upon state and local control.

If and when such a federal program for education as the proponents of federal aid insist upon shall be adopted this country will have taken a further long step toward totalitarian government. It is not understandable to this column how well-informed people can think otherwise.

Will You Become A Statistic?

(An Editorial)

Labor Day, another holiday weekend noted for highway deaths, begins Saturday. Predicted death toll? Thirty for Texas.

Last year 29 died in highway accidents during the holiday. Two major causes, excessive speed and driving while drinking, have come to the attention of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Governor Price Daniel has launched his annual Labor Day traffic safety campaign "with high hopes that Labor Day 1961 can be made the safest in history on Texas highways."

The governor's optimism for an improved Labor Day traffic death toll is based on steady improvements in the general traffic safety picture so far this year.

Though law enforcement agencies, citizen groups and communications media are urging a safe holiday, the outcome depends on you, the holiday driver. Will you be among the 30?

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Old Turnstile must be a brave man to take on all of Randall County. First it was Roy Joe and Wayne Bagley, then those two "sly old foxes" Glenn Dowling and Clarence Beckman together with our new judge, the Honorable Wayland Angel and now Mr. Lair, our popular district attorney. It has dawned on me that he must be trying to run Randall County. I have been a resident of said county for over a half-century and we have always managed somehow to muddle through, and I still think that we are able to take care of ourselves without his bunglesome help. He might better devote his many talents and stupendous efforts to cleaning up Amarillo proper and Potter County as these Old Randall County farm boys always cause a rise in his blood pressure. But I guess he is just like old Nick Khrushchev, they are a bone in his throat. He is like a little boy playing with fire.

I recall, way back in the dim and distant past when I was about five-years-old and thought I was grown, I wanted to smoke, so I gathered a handful of corn silks, rolled them up in some soap wrappers about the size of hot dogs, swiped a handful of matches while Mother had her back turned, then my pockets bulging with matches and roll-your-owns, I went gleefully out back of the barn and tried to smoke. Never could get the darn things lighted but did succeed in burning my fingers before I ran out of matches. However I managed to keep my barbecued fingers from showing until they eased up somewhat.

Did I learn anything?

Not so, for the next week I went through the entire ritual once more, except that I was more careful with my cotton-picking fingers and this time I succeeded in burning up a hundred dollar haystack for my Dear Old Dad.

Well, I kept on and finally succeeded in smoking, still smoke and expect to smoke in the hereafter. In view of all this I would say that you just can't keep little boys from playing with fire, but I would say that this time Mr. Turnstile, in choosing Avert Lair, has picked himself a bearcat and if he succeeds in emerging from the fracas with just a few embarrassing scratches, he can consider himself lucky.

Again, like Mr. K., what causes this "bone in his throat" is the same thing---the flight from Old Amarillo over the border into Randall County.

Why, at the rate they are crossing over through his Brandenburg Gate, in another five years Randall will exceed Potter in population, and in the meantime, if he fails in annexing Randall to Potter, Greater Amarillo will center in Randall County and from then on as far as Amarillo is concerned it will be a case of the tail wagging the dog.

Well, like all good citizens, us old farm boys in Randall County welcome these refugees from Old Amarillo with open arms and will make a special effort to get along with them. Farmer Schaeffer Randall County (still)

Dear Editor,

It only seems fitting that at the close of a very successful season in the Men's Softball League, that a few words of thanks go out to all of the people who made the league such a success.

First, I wish to thank the Canyon News for complete cooperation and coverage during league play.

There were eight teams in the league. Only one of the teams (the Jaycees) was not sponsored by a local business. A word of thanks is due to the following local merchants who donated of their time and money to provide the league with another team. Many thanks to Bud Parker of Western Auto Bill Brundige of M. E. Moses, Benny Cooper of Cooper's Market, Barney Barnard of Bellah's Market, Buddy Taylor of Taylor and Son's Market and Bill York, city manager for providing a team for the city employees.

A special word of appreciation go out to Mr. and Mrs. Max Bosley for their faithful attendance and help in keeping the concession stand open during the full time of the league play.

There were several people who helped tremendously by keeping score at the ball games. Our thanks go to Hampton Lisle, Dave Matthis and Barbara Brown for their help with the scorebooks.

Finally, I wish to thank the citizens of Canyon for your interest and support. We look forward to next year when the league will be bigger and even better than this year.

Sincerely,
Dave Lipscomb

Mrs. B.C. Taylor Sr. Here Before Town Was Established

By Claude Money

With a gay chuckle, Mrs. B.C. Taylor Sr., 1417 2nd Avenue, caught me off guard with her answer to my inquiry as to when she came to Canyon.

"I never did come to Canyon," she said. "It came to me."

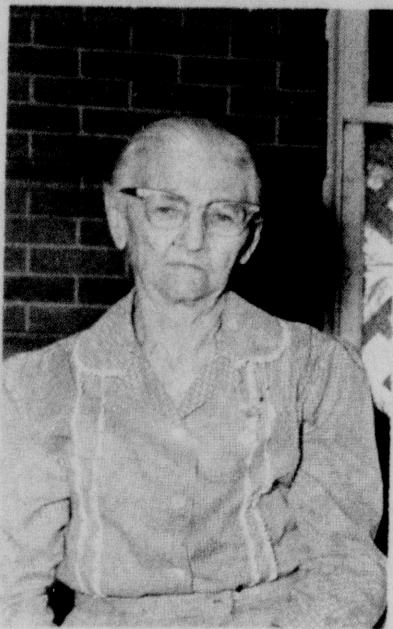

Mrs. Taylor, born Dollie Belinda Thompson to Augusta and Nicholius Thompson in February, 1879, came with her parents and four brothers and sisters to the future site of Canyon from Jones County in March 1889, four months before Randall County was organized.

The town consisted of one dugout occupied by L.G. Conner which was located where the Richard Gidden residence now stands. Several dugouts were located near the creeks around the town and were generally occupied by bachelors who were living and claims and existing by hunting and working occasionally for neighboring ranches.

Mrs. Taylor's two older brothers had preceded the family in the move to Canyon and had excavated a dugout on the creek near the present location of the roadside park south of town. The dugout was divided into four rooms and provided quite comfortable quarters. Nature and the T-Anchor ranch provided the first washateria. Clothes were washed in the creek and hung on the ranch's fence to dry.

As all the early families, the Thompsons came to this region in covered wagons, but unlike most of the early settlers, travel was nothing new to the elder Thompsons. Both were natives of Norway where Mr. Thompson was a sailor. Voyages were quite lengthy and conditions did not permit the Thompsons and the two children they had at that time to come to America on the same ship. Mrs. Thompson and the children arrived at Galveston and there awaited the arrival of their husband and father.

Unable to speak the language and being in a strange land, they encountered more hardships than usual. The children were quick to learn a working knowledge of the language of their new country and were a great help to their parents in helping them communicate with the "natives."

Being an intelligent woman and of strong faith, Mrs. Thompson bought an English Bible and used her Norwegian Bible as a dictionary and by comparison of words in the Scriptures taught herself English.

In the early 1890's, Canyon's first school was started in a one-room building which was located about where the First National Bank is today. Miss Emma Turner was the teacher. Church services were held in various homes, and Mrs. Thompson always conducted Sunday School.

Mr. Thompson established the first butcher shop here and its opening was celebrated with a community taffy pull. He also operated the Thompson Hotel which was located across the street east of Neblett Hospital. The original building, although additions were later made, still is in good repair and is thought to be the oldest building in town.

The specialty of the dining room was fried fish. Mr. Thompson went fishing every day except Sundays, never losing the sailor's love of water.

Mrs. Taylor was recently honored as being a charter member of several organizations, among which are the Rebekah Lodge and the Methodist Church, although she now is a Baptist. Ironically, she now is numbered among the oldest residents, being the only local person who witnessed the Indian scare of 1890. Recently, she was honored at the Randall County Roundup as having lived here longer than any other person present.

With a wisdom nurtured by a realistic and undaunted outlook, Mrs. Taylor laughs at what we would consider the hardships of early days in Randall County.

"These weren't hardships, they were a way of life and pretty good living at that."

She predicts that future generations will consider our living today as being "hardships."

Mrs. Taylor and the late Brent C. Taylor were married in Canyon in the Thompson Hotel, June 5, 1898. They were the parents of four daughters and a son. The daughters are Mrs. Mildred Wray of National City, California; Mrs. Mary Ellen Bailey, Mrs. Florence Stephenson and Mrs. R.T. Furlow all of Canyon. The son is B.C. Taylor, also of Canyon. Mrs. Taylor has seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A brother, A.C. Thompson, resides at Hereford. Miss Tenie Thompson, a sister, died here in 1947. She was a pioneer school teacher and was also a charter member of the Canyon First Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clifton and son, Barrett, are now living in Trinidad, Colorado, where Bill is on the coaching staff of the high school in that city.

Miss Jackie Barnard has gone to White Deer where she is a first grade teacher in the schools. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnard of this city.

Miss Marsha Nan Barker will leave next week to return to Houston where she will attend the University of Houston again this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roberts went to Pampa Sunday where they attended the Stokes family reunion. One hundred-thirty persons were present from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by JOHN BRAZZIL

Here are some food facts worth telling. The real cost of our food today is lower than it has ever been. Sounds funny doesn't it. Today we spend only 20 per cent of our take-home pay for food. Wages from 1 hour of factory work buy 83 per cent more round steak, 126 per cent more milk, 138 per cent more oranges than in 1929. Farmers are efficient and are becoming more efficient. One farmer now produces food and clothing for 26 people. One hour of farm labor produces 4 times as much food and fiber as it did in 1919-1921. Crop production is 65 per cent higher per acre.

People that go to bed hungry nowadays mostly do so because they are on a diet.

According to that last agricultural census Alaska has 367 farms. These farms produce less than 10 per cent of the food consumed there. Today the average value of land and buildings per Alaskan farm is $43,000. Milk is the chief agricultural product of Alaska and accounts for about half of the farmer's receipts. Potatoes are the second largest single agricultural enterprise. Better think twice though before pulling up stakes and heading for the Yukon. Production and marketing costs are actually so high that it is often cheaper to import perishables than to produce them.

The United States set a new record for wheat and flour export during 1960-61. Shipments were more than 20 per cent above any previous year. More wheat is now exported than is used at home.

Wheat pasture prospects now appear to be most excellent. More August planting is being done than in recent years. Planting moisture is good over the county. Probably more acres of summer fallowed land is being seeded to wheat than in any recent period. Heavy feed grain diversion caused normal fallow to be increased. Subsoil moisture on this fallowed land is good. With a few showers to firm the ground and strengthen the root system pasture could be a most valuable fall and winter crop. Roughage feed will be ample. Ranges and pastures carry enough cover to furnish cured winter forage to handle more cattle.

The summer of 1961 will be remembered in Randall County as one of the very good ones.

The fall fair circuit will be here in a short while. Prize exhibits of livestock, field crops and horticultural products will be on display. The Tri-State Fair will have a good sampling of produce from Randall County. Again this year an exhibit booth of crops will be presented from county-producers.

Eagles Face Slaton Tigers In Gridiron Season Opener

Canyon High School Eagles meet the Slaton Tigers Friday at 8 p.m. at Buff Stadium, with odds favoring the Eagles.

One of the contending teams for district championship, the Eagles have several starters from last year back on the gridiron. Coach Jeep Webb feels like his boys will come through this season with honors.

He said that with the exception of one boy, Donald Britling, who is a sophomore, all the team saw action last year.

Probable starters on offense will be Wayne Rutherford and Gary Lee at ends; Jess Sheets and Tim White at tackle positions; Ralph Cabe and Terry Funk at guard slots; Ronny Harris, center; and Harry Lisle, Elmer Oberst, Gail Cox and Doug Ward in the backfield, Webb said.

Defensive team probably will be Elmer Oberst and Warren Rutherford at ends; Jess Sheets and Tim White at tackle; Terry Funk, Donald Britling and Ronny as linebackers; Ralph Cabe and Ronny Brock as corner backs (outside linebackers); Harry Lisle and Doug Ward as halfbacks.

Webb said most of these boys played last year with the exception of Donald Britling who is a sophomore.

Other sophomores who will appear during Eagle games will be Don Hawkins, end; Eddy Poole, end; John Stritzel, center; Jim Whinnery, half back.

Webb said that Truit O'Donald will not be able to join the team during the season due to a knee injury.

"He reinjured a knee during practice the other day and we'll have to do without him," Webb commented. O'Donald has already undergone an operation for a previous injury on the same knee.

Other games for the Eagles are:

Slaton, here September 1; Hereford, there, September 8; Perryton, there, September 15; Phillips, there, September 22; Sunray, here, September 29; Floydada, here, October 6; Dimmitt, here, October 13; Dalhart, here, October 27; Tulia, there, November 3; and Friona, there November 10.

Conference games will be with Dimmitt, Dalhart, Tulia and Friona.

CANYON FIREMEN receive a new truck this week. Above, Charlie Foster, is shown at the controls of the 1952 model Ward LaFrance. The $28,000 truck was purchased as surplus for $280. Many repairs will have to be done before the giant truck is servicable.

CANYON BUSINESS REVIEW and BUYER'S GUIDE

This week the Canyon News visits with A.L. Crossland. A.L. CROSSLAND moved to Canyon in 1946 as associate professor of Agriculture at West Texas State College and was in charge of the College farm. In 1955 Mr. Crossland began his career in life insurance part-time while still at WT. In 1956 he added fire and casualty insurance and set up a general agency in his home at 301 26th street. The next year A.L. retired from the Teaching profession after 30 years and went into insurance full-time. Two years later, in early 1959, Crossland bought out the W.H. Hardin Inc. Agency which was the 2nd oldest in Canyon at that time. A.L. said, "We combined our fire and casualty business with his and continued in life insurance." In a few months, he took the State examination and became a licensed realtor and expanded the business in all departments. Last year, A.W. Lair and A.L. Crossland bought what is now commonly known as the McCrery place east of the new high school. In 1961 the pair began the development of the "Hidden Valley" addition to the city of Canyon. At present they are paving 5

Buff Grid Practice Begins Friday

Football fans will have to get up early to catch West Texas State's first football practice Friday. Coach Joe Kerbel will start at 6:30 a.m., and the second of his two-a-day drills will be at 3:30 p.m.

Two-a-day sessions will continue until September 11, when preliminary school registration activities begin.

Coach Kerbel will welcome 43 upperclassmen to fall drills, including 17 lettermen and a number of junior college transfers. Approximately 30 freshmen will be on hand also for opening practice, but few figure to make the varsity squad. Border Conference rules permit freshmen to play varsity football.

Coach Kerbel, in his second year of rebuilding at Buffalo, says the Buffalo squad is still in the "young category" and about a year away from its top potential. Of the 43 upperclassmen, only 14 are seniors, 14 are sophomores, and there are 15 juniors.

Several veterans who started some of last year's games are back but there are few who were full-fledged starters all season. In the backfield, Jim Dawson, the Borger passer deluxe who ranked among the nation's leaders all year, will be hard to root out at quarterback.

At halfback, Jimmy Janes of Sundown and Jerry Logan of Graham started a number of games and must be reckoned with. Some new faces—Pete Pedro, Jerry Richardson and Dan Anderson—offer more speed however, and will be threats to those positions.

No starters return at fullback, leaving it wide open to newcomers Ollie Ross, 205-pound junior, and Stu McAlvay,

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brown, Randy and Beverly, have returned from a vacation trip to Flint and Monroe, Michigan, where they visited with relatives. While there they saw the Detroit Tigers play and fished in Lake Erie. Enroute home they toured the Southern States. They traveled 4,000 miles and were away for two and one-half weeks.

VARIETY RING

Mrs. Mae Johnson will be hostess to members of the Variety Ring in her home Friday, September 1. Miss Edna Graham will present the program.

Randall Farmers Favor Support Price on Wheat

Randall County wheat growers will produce crops under an amended price support law next year, according to Doyle Thomas of the ASC office here.

New support price will be $2 per bushel. Wheat growers must cut back their allowed acreage by 10 per cent. Thomas said growers will receive 45 per cent of the normal yield on this leave-out ground at the $2 support price.

If growers desire they may leave out additional land up to another 30 per cent and receive 60 per cent of the normal yield on this land.

Last week, 432 persons in Randall County voted on the issue and 317 were in favor of continuing a wheat program. The program also passed statewide and nationally.

Voting by community follows: Community A, Canyon, 89 for, 27 against; Community B, Sunny Hill-Fairview, 48 for, 6 against; Community C, Jewell, 39 for, 4 against; Community D, Umberger, 38 for, 30 against; Community E, Highland, 35 for, 19 against; Community F, Trigg-Zita, 43 for, 6 against; Community G, Stone, 25 for, 23 against.

Postmaster Says 2nd Class Mail Not Only Advertising

"When most people hear the term 'second class mail,' they think instinctively of advertising matter," says Postmaster Marion Higdon.

Second class matter includes newspapers and periodicals which have been approved under a special permit of the Post Office Department for mailing at second-class rates of postage. Usually such publications are devoted to news, literature, the sciences, the arts, or some special industry. If they are designed primarily for advertising purposes, they are not eligible for second-class mailing privileges.

Patrons may identify a second-class magazine or newspaper by locating a printed notice on one of the first five pages which contains the name of the publication, the frequency of issuance, the issue number, the subscription price, the post office of publication, and the wording "Second-class postage 215-pound block buster, both junior college products.

In the line, only a scattering of last year's starters are back. Both ends—Dean Faulkenberry and Joe Granato—are returning, but face real challenges from sophomores Benny George of Spearman and Jim Perry of Abilene. Ray Kauffman of Levelland is the only returning tackle who started every game, but sometime starters include Jerry Behrens of Clarendon, and John Varnell of Plainview, only a sophomore this season.

Bill Bradley of Tucson, Stu Johnson of Perryton, and Jack Mayfield of Odessa are returning guards who were in-and-out starters in 1960. At center, Frank Thrasher of Matador will be trying to gain a starting role for the third year in a row. His replacements are both converted from other positions, however—Dennis Smith, from tackle, and Bill Gilliland, from guard.

The Buffs don't open the season until September 23, against Brigham Young at home. The card runs later than usual, closing out Dec. 2 on the road against Texas Tech. Other home attractions include games with U. of Wichita, Arizona State U., Hardin-Simmons and U. of Arizona.

Press and picture day will be held Thursday, starting at 1:30 p.m. in the new Buffalo Bowl.

Beet Meeting Under Eye Of Several Local Men

Canyon farmers are watching with interest this week the public hearing in Denver on the 1962 sugar beet program.

A three-man committee from this area is attending the hearings on behalf of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association.

They are Henry Sears, Lee Benefield and James Witherspoon, all of Hereford. Randall County has an active Sugar Beet Growers Association. The hearing in Denver has been called to consider recommendations concerning the 1962 sugar beet crop. Texas sugar growers contend that a portion of the annual increase of sugar beet production should be distributed to new growers.

Witherspoon said Monday he doesn't expect any definite move by US Department of Agriculture officials at Denver "but maybe they'll know our side of the issue when we get through."

Open House at Warren's Marks 40 Years Of Service to Canyon, Randall County People

Warren's Grand Opening this week marks another forward step in the store's 40-year successful history.

First opening in a 30 by 60 store, in April, 1921, located at the present site of the Canyon News, W.A. Warren began his career as a Canyon merchant in "The Man's Store."

"It was a very small operation and I was the only one working at the time," he recalled.

"Most of my business was composed of work clothing and outer wear sales," he said.

When Warren opened there were two grocery stores, the post office, a barber shop, a cafe and two real estate offices on the west side of the square.

The real estate offices were small frame buildings located on lots where the present store is.

The Warrens came to Canyon from Wichita Falls where he worked for Gulf Production. He and his wife came to Canyon one Christmas to visit her family and liked the town.

"We met many people here and several men told me there was a great need for a men's store. We moved here the following March and opened in April.

His first employee was Louis Hix. Hix started to work in "The Man's Store" the next spring. He worked there two years.

"Of course, the family helped me with the store's operation. My wife's family worked off and on for several years. Then in 1924 "The Man's Store" changed to "The People's Store" when Warren moved to the store's present location.

"I leased a 40 by 90 building and added women's clothing and piece goods.

The store was expanded when Warren purchased a 20 by 90 building on the north side of the store and moved his shoe department into the area.

"We just had an archway in the wall at the time," he said.

When the depression hit in 1930 Warren drew in his operations, rearranged the store and weathered out the hard years.

"At that time people were leaving town and a drought was driving farmers and ranchers off the land.

"Wheat was being offered for sale on the street at 15 cents a bushel and there were no takers. The college managed to hold the town together though," he said.

Following the depression he purchased the 40 by 90 building which he had been leasing and added another 40 feet to the rear.

No other changes were made until after the war.

Then a vast remodeling took place. Partition walls were taken down and the name was changed to "Warren's." The store operated without major changes, until the Pharmacy fire in April.

Since that time Warren has added another building to the store giving a total floor space of 11,700 square feet. A complete remodeling of the front has taken place and new fixture, lighting, rearranging stock and carpeting have been added making Warren's one of the largest, most modern department stores in the Panhandle area.

"We will continue to serve the people of Canyon and Randall County to the best of our ability," Warren stated.

"We hope everyone will come in during our Grand Opening and see our new store," Warren concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Warren, residents of Canyon for 40 years, both have interesting pastimes, in addition to duties at Warren's.

Mr. Warren, who has an 11 to 12 hour work day, divides his time between store work and cattle.

"I usually spend seven hours a day in the store and approximately four hours a day working with cattle," he said. He helps his son, Meredith, with his herd of registered Herefords.

Most of this work with cattle takes place in the earlier part of the morning. Arising at 5:45 a.m. he and Meredith check the cattle and are in town by 8:30.

"Of course, in the winter we have to spend more time with the cattle than we are doing now," he said.

Not many years ago, he was also assisting his other son, Bernard, at the funeral home. "I spent 12 active years with the funeral home," he pointed out.

Mrs. Warren also enjoys outside work—gardening.

"It's a good way to keep one's balance," she explained.

"I go home and work in the flower beds and afterwards feel refreshed; have even forgotten all my worries."

Both are members of the First Christian Church. Mr. Warren served several terms as chairman of the church board and as Sunday School superintendent.

He served as mayor of Canyon for eight years, has been president of the school board, Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce. He held the Chamber of Commerce office three different terms.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren were married in Wichita County June 1, 1915, and later lived at Gatesville where they both taught school.

Feeling the urge to move west, Mr. Warren took a job with the Gulf Company at Wichita Falls. In the same year they visited relatives in Canyon and immediately decided to locate here.

They came in March, 1921, and Mr. Warren opened "The Man's Store" on the west side of the square.

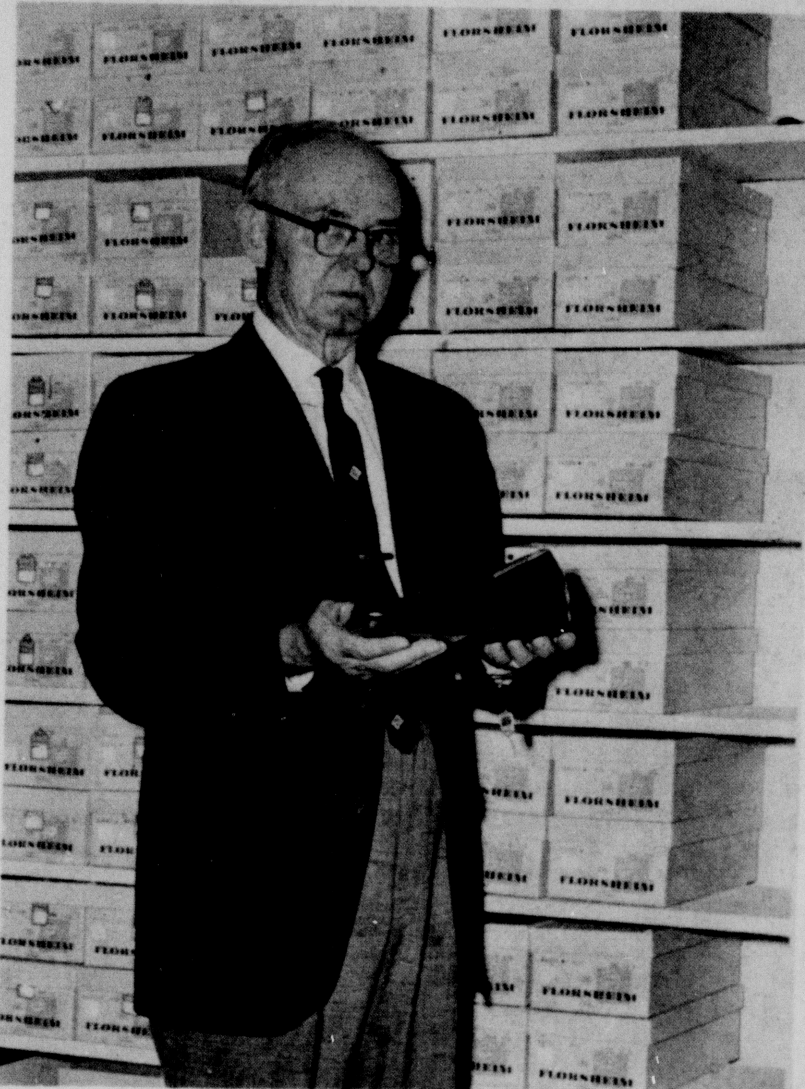

MRS. W.A. WARREN finds gardening a refreshing hobby after a day's work in the store. She is buyer of women's ready-to-wear at Warren's.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Liermer and children of Dumas were Sunday guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Harding. Also visiting during the day were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jones of Perryton and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harding of Amarillo.

MOORE TOUR CONTINUES

See 'Unto These Hills'

(Editor's Note: W.A. Moore is touring outdoor theaters of the nation and is picking up data to be used in connection with the Heritage Foundation's theater in Palo Duro Canyon. He is writing a series on his tour for The Canyon News.)

From Beckley, West Virginia, where we enjoyed "Honey in the Rock" we had a pleasant trip to Abington, Virginia. We had always wanted to see a production at the Barter Theater because we liked and admired Bob Porterfield so very much. Bob started this theater during the depression and people really traded food for theater tickets. We were glad that Porterfield was doing "Tea House of the August Moon" because it is one of our favorite plays. We saw David Wayne do Sakine in the original production but thought Jerry Oddo at the Barter did a wonderfully fine interpretation. Porterfield greets the audience personally and gives a pair of nylons to the lady who has come farthest to see the show. Mrs. M. was hopeful she might win a pair until a lady from Germany appeared to claim them.

The Barter Theater has a great deal of charm but is greatly handicapped by having no lobby space. Again we are grateful for our new BIT and the generous lobby and lounge.

Tuesday we traveled over a beautiful mountain road to Pineville, Ky., to see "The Book of Job." This beautiful production is the work of a husband-wife team, Orlin and Irene Cory. We had looked forward to meeting them but were disappointed to find that they had just left for New York in hopes that there will be an off-Broadway presentation of their stunning production. Our visit was made enjoyable by the wonderful hospitality of Preston Slusher, the hard working and dynamic general manager. He arranged motel accommodations, tickets, etc.

The play is given in a beautiful outdoor setting called the Cathedral of the Hills and the costumes are enhanced by a reflecting pool in front of the stage.

The success of this production is heart-warming for as my wife says, it isn't really a play - it's a beautiful reading of the book of Job. Mrs. Cory wanted to give the illusion of figures in a stained glass window moving and speaking and she has certainly succeeded.

We enjoyed a visit back stage and Erin had an opportunity to examine the costumes and make-up carefully.

The next day we drove through

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM A. MOORE of the department of speech, West Texas State College, are shown here with J. Sib Dorton Jr., general manager of "The Lost Colony" at Manteo on Roanoke Island N.C. They are looking at a large mural of Waterside Theatre, site of Paul Green's symphonic drama, The Lost Colony which concludes its 21st season, at the site of the original happenings of the history-mystery story, on September 3. The Moore's were on a tour of outdoor dramas in preparation for a similar project of the Texas Heritage Association at Canyon, Texas. Pulitzer Prize Winning Author Paul Green is tentatively scheduled to write the script for the Texas drama.

the beautiful Smoky Mountains to Cherokee, North Carolina, for "Unto These Hills," Kermit Hunter's sad and deeply tragic story of the removal of the Cherokee Indians to the Indian Territory in Oklahoma. This play is now in its 10th successful season and has meant great economic improvement to the small town of Cherokee. When it began, there were no overnight accommodations for tourists. Now the town can take care of 6,000 per night.

The play includes some fine Indian actors and dancers.

We enjoyed meeting another husband-wife theater team here. Harry Davis is the very talented director. He is president of the Southeast Theater conference and we enjoyed comparing notes in various projects. Suzanne Davis, Harry's talented wife is the costumer and a person of warm friendliness. They both spent much time showing us the theater and explaining all the various operations. The next morning we had an interesting and informative conference with the talented narrator of "Unto These Hills," William C. Trotman, who will be at the Alley Theater in Houston next winter.

The drive to Boone over the Blue Ridge Parkway was not an easy one. One road is one curve after another and the clouds were so low they obscured the road and we were caught in several hard rains. We got to Boone just in time to claim our motel reservation and get a little food before we went to the "Horn in the West." There were no parking lot attendants. We thought we had reserved seats but someone else by the name of Moore evidently got our reservations-after much confusion we were seated by an usher who couldn't have been less interested. In spite of a bad beginning we enjoyed the play very much although the script was very episodic.

Tomorrow we are off to Chapel Hill to visit with Paul

Green and Mrs. Green. We are looking forward to discussing the way his ideas for our drama are developing.

If you haven't joined the group working for our very own symphonic drama, please contact Dr. and Mrs. Ples Harper or any of the officers or board members. It will take the help and talent of many people to produce a successful show. The various groups we have visited are expected the "Texas" production to be big like Texas!

'Airlift' Will Be Fashion For Fall Hair Arrangements

The American Woman will once again have an opportunity to re-vamp her hair or wardrobe according to her wishes or pocketbook this Fall and Winter. There is something new from tip-toe literally.

According to Marie Cooper, who is a member of the Official Hair Fashion Committee that creates the styles followed by hairdressers all over the country, "Air Lift" is the Fall and Winter coiffure. She explains that the "Air Lift" is an irregularly shaped oval hair fashion that lends an appearance of proportioned fullness—not bouffant-fitted close to the sides at the ear level. On those of average height, the top will be tall enough for the eyes to appear at the center of the head, but more formal wear, will call for taller styling.

Fashion-wise skirts will be worn at knee skimming lengths, while the waistline is dropped below normal and sleeves are at the elbow or just below. The success of the overblouse has extended into sweaters, new-looking at 7 inches below the waist and frequently indented at the waistline with tie belts.

Fabrics will feature crepes and tissue faille. Many of these will be available with laminated foam backing which eliminates the interlining for flared skirts and jackets. Brocades, satins, textured silks, mohair, suedes and tweeds will all be good this Fall.

A riot of deep colors will be seen as soon as summer pastels are stored until next year. Majenta is front-runner for the most popular new shade, while champagne beige, jade, blue greens, peacock, saffron yellow and turquoise are among the favorites.

Coats of calf or suede will be good again this year, while leather will be used mostly as trim and especially good with matching shoe and glove trim. Belting will feature wide belts and below-the-waist contour belts.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Combs last week were his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. C.V. Lowe of Gruver. Visiting with them this week is Mrs. J.M. Hart, also of Gruver.

While the taper toe continues in vogue, there is a decided up-swing in the showing of low-heeled, squared toe (such as you would see on a toe shoe) shoe for casual and day time wear. Brocade shoes with matching bag are big again this year, while taupe and natural leathers are the most important new contribution to foot-wear this season. Too, one may notice the new hosiery shades as having under tones of purple, green, deep gray and off-black.

By-the-way, long kid gloves are back again with the 16 button length most popularly worn with the bracelet sleeve.

This Fall offers some renovations of last year's styles as well as some brilliant innovations in fabric, style and color for the 1961-62 year.

Work Leaves No Time For Hobbies Says Bernard Warren

Bernard Warren, who serves as window trimmer, bookkeeper and assistant buyer of ladies' wear and shoes at Warren's says he has no time for hobbies.

"Work in the store occupies all my time," he declared. Another important store duty is preparation of all store advertising.

Starting on a part-time basis while attending high school, he began work on a full-time basis following graduation from West Texas State College in 1942.

From 1944 until January 15, 1960, he divided his time between operation of the funeral home and store duties.

He married the former Martha Hammond, a Randall County native, August 26, 1947. She is also a graduate of WT.

"Martha finished school and was too young to leave home to teach," Bernard said. "She began working in the store and that's where we met."

They have two sons, John, 11, and Richard B., 10. They are members of the First Baptist Church.

While Bernard says that he devotes all his time to store

WORKING IN EVERY department of Warren's is Bernard Warren. His primary duties at the store are bookkeeping, window trimming and advertising director. He has been with the firm since graduation from West Texas State College in 1942.

duties he still finds time to do odd jobs around the house. "Carpentry would probably be classified as a hobby of mine," he said. "I mostly 'putter,' though."

Collectors put such a premium on postimpressionists that Cezanne gets up to $616,000. Museums spend as much as $500,000 per pair for Rembrandts.

In the speculative exchange, George Romney, 18th Century English, was listed as having work worth $292,300 in 1925. Last year year it was listed as being worth $9600. A painting of "Lady Anne Stuart" by Romney was recently sold for $420. This price included frame and delivery to an American airport! So you can see how this investment might vary!

The Women's Department of the State Fair of Texas has dozens of exciting divisions that may be interesting to people in this area. Write for the catalogue. The address will be Dallas 26, Texas.

There have always been investors in oil and diamonds, but now art is moving up in the investors' interests.

Last year a report was made that "Today's art market is the biggest in history. More paintings are up for sale and more buyers are after them. The demand for the commodities is from an increasing number of people who enjoy art and are anxious to buy it. Solely in the last category are collectors who buy a painting cheap, wait for its value to rise and donate it to a museum, taking a heavy charitable deduction in their income."

Yet, due to the sharp, often unpredictable changes in art fashions, the market is often tricky.

Some paintings by artist have very secure reputations, such as, Cezanne, Degas, Goya, Mat-

On September 7, Grandma Moses will be 101 years of age. In 1938, she made her first sale at the Women's Exchange. Her first painting was a farm scene and sold for three dollars. She says that keeping busy is much more important than the actual result of the painting.

Last year on her birthday, she told a Life Magazine writer, "It's really nothing to get to 100," she said with a twinkle "You just tell a lot of bad stories, you laugh and laugh

Meredith Warren Has Extra Duties With Registered Herd

Meredith Warren, manager of the men's department at Warren's divides his time between work in the store and the cattle business.

Though buying and directing sales of men's wear is a full-time job, he takes care of a herd of registered Herefords. Warren took over his present position in the men's department on return from service in World War II.

A graduate of Canyon schools and West Texas State College, he flew light bombers during the war.

His career in the store did not begin at the end of the war, though. "You might say I grew up in the store," he said.

Throughout his school years Warren worked on Saturdays. He now devotes approximately seven hours daily to store duties.

His hobby with cattle requires another four hours daily.

At the present time, work with Boy Scout Troop 31 is another hobby of Warren's. He has served as scoutmaster of the troop for four years. He attends the troop's camp each year.

He is married to the former Jerri Dromogoolle of Dalhart. They have two children, Randy 14, and Penny, 11. They are members of the First Methodist Church.

The Warrens reside on their ranch east of Canyon off the Palo Duro Canyon State Park road.
